Brian S. Weinstock Appointed to SSM Rehab Foundation Board

St. Louis, MO – June 24, 2008 – Danna McKitrick attorney Brian S. Weinstock joins the SSM Rehabilitation Foundation Board, which provides resources and support to rehab patients and their families in the St. Louis area. Weinstock was invited to apply for a board member position after meeting with Foundation Director Teri Champion, and Board President Chuck Neff.

“I’m honored to be approved as a member of this board. Through the United Way, I learned about the foundation and gained an appreciation for the impact of their work. They have great programs, many of which help in crises that occur out of the blue—the kind of situations that could devastate any of us if we were ever so unlucky. I look forward to participating in the strategic planning that helps continually improve the way that patients, and their families, get care and support as they enhance their physical function and quality of life,” says Weinstock.

Weinstock earned his M.B.A. with finance and management concentration from Washington University John M. Olin School of Business. He attended Michigan State University College of Law earning a J.D., cum laude, and his B.A. in political science from the University of Kansas.
